I

INTRODUCTION

On or about, May 5, 2008, the Material Witnesses were detained by the Immigration and Naturalization Service in connection with the arrest of Humberto Gonzales-Hernandez, the defendant in the above-entitled case. The defendant has been charged with illegally bringing in undocumented aliens in violation of 8 U.S.C. § 1324 and the Material Witnesses have been detained as a Material Witnesses under 8 U.S.C. § 1227 (d).

The Material Witnesses are being held in custody. They are unable to locate any person to post a bond to be released from custody.

It is unnecessary to keep the Material Witnesses in the United States because their testimony can be preserved through the use of videotape depositions. The Material Witnesses therefore requests a court order that their testimony be preserved through the use of videotape depositions and, thereafter, that they be allowed to return to their families in Mexico.

II

THE TESTIMONY OF THE MATERIAL WITNESSES CAN BE SECURED BY VIDEOTAPE DEPOSITIONS AND THERE IS NO
COMPELLING REASON TO KEEP THEM IN CUSTODY

Title 18, section 3144 of the United States Code Provides:

No Material Witness may be detained . . . if the testimony of such witness can adequately be secured by deposition, and if

1 further detention is not necessary to prevent a failure of
2 justice.

5 1 While a witness may be detained for a reasonable period of
6 time, the court must vigilantly guard an undocumented alien's
7 "overriding liberty interest" and schedule a videotape
8 deposition at the earliest possible time. See, Aguilar-Ayala v.
9 Ruiz 973 F. 2d 411, 419 (5th Cir. 1992).
10 Deposition of the Material Witnesses may be used at trial in 11 criminal cases, so it is only in exceptional circumstances,
12 where the interests of justice will be denied, that a videotape
13 deposition is not appropriate. See, Torres-Ruiz v. United
14 States 120 F.3d 933 (9th Cir. 1997) [citing Aguilar Ayala v. Ruiz
15 973 F.2d 411, 413 (5th Cir. 1992) see also 8 U.S.C. § 1324 (d),
16 Federal Rules of Evidence 804, and Federal Rules of Criminal
17 Procedure 15. Defendant may be present at the videotape
18 deposition and therefore have a full and fair opportunity to 19 cross-examine the witness. The videotape provides sufficient
20 indicia of reliability to afford the trier of fact a
21 satisfactory basis for evaluation the truth of a statement.
22 Dutton v. Evans 400 U.S. 74, 89 (1970).

23 The government or defendant can effectuate the detention of 24 the material witness upon a showing that (1) the material
25 witness will, in all likelihood, be unavailable to testify for 26 trial, and (2) that the use of deposition testimony will deny
27 the defendant a fair trial and that live testimony would somehow
28

1 be significantly different. See, Aguilar-Ayala v. Ruiz 973 F.2d
2 at 413 (5th Cir. 1992), United States v. Humberto Rivera 859 F.2d
3 1204, 1208 (4th Cir. 1988). That would be a difficult burden in
4 this case, however, because the Material Witnesses has indicated
5 they are willing to return for trial if the government makes
6 arrangements for their legal re-entry into the country and
7 provides travel expenses. 2 (King Decl. At para. 6).

10
11 2 The government would undoubtedly take reasonable steps in 12 this case, as it has in other similar cases, to secure the 13 witness's testimony at trial by personally subpoenaing the
14 witness, providing travel costs, and arranging for legal re-
15 entry of the alien. (See, United States v. Eufracio-Torris 890
16 F.2d 266, 270 (10th Cir. 1989) cert. Denied 494 U.S. 1008 (1990)
17 [government need not guarantee the witness will be available,
18 only that they use good-faith efforts to secure their presence
19 at trial]; see also, Ohio v. Roberts 448 U.S. 56, 65 (1980) [so
20 long as the government uses reasonable measures to secure a
21 witness at trial, a deposition is admissible over a defendant's
22 Confrontation Clause and hearsay objections].
23

24 The Material Witness should not be detained because his 25 testimony can be adequately secured by deposition. Based on 26 interviews with the Material Witness and the report submitted by 27 the arresting agency, the facts to which the Material Witness is 28 competent to testify is straightforward. (King Decl. At para.
5).

Moreover, neither the Material Witness nor their counsel has been informed that the witness' detention is necessary to prevent a failure of justice. (King Decl. At para. 4). Quite

1 to the contrary, the witness has already spent a considerable
2 time in jail and it is very important that he be released as
3 soon as possible so that he may be reunited with his family in
4 Mexico. (King Decl. At para. 3.)

6 For these reasons, the Material Witness requests that the court immediately orders the 7 taking of his videotape deposition and that he thereafter is immediately returned to Mexico.

8 III

9 IF THE COURT DENIES THE MATERIAL WITNESS' REQUEST TO
10 TAKE THEIR VIDEOTAPE DEPOSITIONS, THEY MAY REQUEST THAT THE
11 GOVERNMENT PROVIDE THEM WITH A STATEMENT OF REASONS WHY
12 THEY HAVE TO REMAIN IN CUSTODY
13

15 Where a witness has been held in custody for more than 10
16 days, the government has an obligation to prepare a biweekly
17 report stating the reasons why such witness should not be
18 released with or without the taking of a deposition. Fed Rules
19 Crim. Proc., Rule 46 (g).
20

22 The Material Witnesses are not aware of the any reasons why
23 their should remain in custody, but to the extent the government
24 knows of any such reason, he hereby requests that the government
25 provide them with a copy of a biweekly written report indicating 26 these reasons.

IV

CONCLUSION

For the forgoing reasons, the Material Witness respectfully requests that the motion for the taking of a videotaped deposition be granted. In the alternative, the Witness requests that he immediately be provided with a statement of reasons why he needs to remain in custody.
